Insanely delicious, this is one of the most concentrated and controlled Sauternes of the vintage. [...] there is unmistakable majesty here coupled with an unbelievably long finish. It will demand extraordinary patience, but this wine will be sheer heaven in years to come, and it manages this trick without any exoticism whatsoever. This is a wine with no flourishes or flamboyance. It is simply borne of a spectacularly focussed and intricately detailed core of citrus fruit.

"[...] my top ranked wine of 2021?... was actually Château Suduiraut, which flirts with sheer perfection, made all the more special because a super tiny amount of it was made. [...]" [...] just so delicious on the palate, concentrated yet so well balanced as to defy that and give a sense of elegance, this is complex, spicy, with great clarity of taste and super long fresh finish.

An amazing wine [...]. It gives off such distinct notes of ginger and white pepper, with a sensually dense palate texture, evoking peach and pear. Very low yields, low production, but magical. A long finish.

[...] Comme toujours, le vigneron est allé puiser de la richesse, de la profondeur et de la densité dans les raisins, d'où la sensation d'un liquoreux légèrement plantureux, mais équilibré par de beaux amers (zestes d'agrumes). Derrière cette richesse, cette densité en bouche, le vin conserve la fraîcheur du fruit qui lui donne son éclat, le tout habillé par un élevage magistralement dosé.

[...] Pale lemon-gold colored, it offers up the most beautiful scents of peach blossoms, mandarin peel, yuzu, and spice cake, followed by suggestions of beeswax, baking bread, and coriander seed, plus a hint of candied ginger. The palate shimmers with vibrant citrus and spice flavors, supported by a laser-precise backbone and satiny texture, finishing with fantastic energy. Wow! [...]

When I discovered that the yields were only 1 hectoliter per hectare, it dawned on me that I was drinking a percentage of the production! While there was almost no wine, what there was hit all the right notes. Unctuous, rich, sweet and most importantly, vibrant with its racy acidity, the ripe and overripe, spicy apricots, vanilla, honey and roasted nut aromas with their candied orange rind nuances were just what the doctor ordered on the nose and palate.

Article: « [...] Some top wines which jump immediately to mind are the 2021 Château Suduiraut [...] ». An exceptional wine, with such texture and bright energy. Impressive, coherent, characterful, concentrated and vivacious, this is just fabulous. With a yield below 1 hl/ha it is perhaps not surprising to learn that this will be sold in three-bottle cases, and it will surely sell out.

[...] Complex and multi-layered with incredible balance and freshness. Intense and richly botrytised on the nose with marmalade, honey and floral notes. Palate rich and pure but matched by a line of pithy acidity that gives it balance and great length. A real elixir but beware, there's not much to go around.

[...] Sensual yet delicate, this has a real freshness and gentleness so you get a Sauternes weight and density on the mid palate but such refined edges and sense of lift. Aromas are more pronounced than expected - purity and freshness but an overwhelming sense of high definition, there is no hiding here so as well as the sucrosity you get the minerality and cinnamon edges that give the wine a real character. I love it! Sophisticated and thoughtful!
