Reviewed by Lisa Perrotti-Brown	Deep garnet-purple colored, the 2018 Taillefer has a profound licorice and Black Forest cake-scented nose with a core of plum preserves, baked blueberries and mocha.
Issue Date 23rd Apr 2019	Full-bodied and generously fruited in the mouth, it has a solid, plush texture and just enough freshness, finishing with great length.

Château Taillefer, Pomerol, Bordeaux, France, 2018

Tasted by Jane Anson, (at Primeur week tastings in Bordeaux, 28 Mar 2019)

This is perhaps a little on the austere side at this stage, more floral than fruity but hugely enjoyable with firm, bright fruits, touches of raspberry leaf and white pepper and an almost truffle edging - it has a real kick and sense of vitality. The new generation are in place at Taillefer and it's an estate that is definitely worth getting behind, making increasingly good wines in a sector of the appellation that has always been a little lighter-framed. 40% new oak was used. A yield of 32hl/ha.
