CHÂTEAU YON-FIGEAC

Saint-Emilion Grand Cru Classé

PRIMEURS 2016

Revue de Presse

Neal Martin eRobertParker.com 28 April 2017 87-89

The 2016 Yon Figeac has a lifted, floral bouquet with raspberry and wild strawberry fruit, nicely defined with a light marine note percolating through with aeration. The palate is medium-bodied with firm and grippy tannin. This Yon Figeac feels very solid in the mouth yet the finish just misses the complexity and nuance that some of its peers show this year. Not bad, but not the best in this vintage.

Antoni Galloni Vinous 25 April 2017 89/92

The 2016 Yon-Figeac is a powerful, plush Saint Emilion. Plum, blueberry jam, crème de cassis, chocolate and spice give the wine its unctuous, richly textured personality. This is an especially dense style.

Mostiges, schlankes Bouquet, rote Kirschen, junges Holz, Johannisbeeren. Schlanker, trockener Gaumen mit kernigem Tannin, leichter, süsster Aromatik, kantiger Struktur, trockener Abgang.

Jacques Perrin: 90/100

Mid crimson. Meaty and fresh on the nose. Some interest. Less obviously ripe than some and just a little stringy - as though the grapes were not quite as ripe as elsewhere. Drink 2022-2032

Le meilleur jamais fait ! Couleur sombre, intense, belle. Nez intense, fin, fruité, floral, pur. Bouche toute en délicatesse tactile avec beaucoup de saveurs. Corps moelleux. Longue finale séveuse et parfumée qui fait monter la note. Très agréable. Une réussite.

Breed en intens, warm, rijp, confiture machtig en dik, toch goede tannine

Ruby. Dark fruits, spices, blueberries, fairly intense nose, almost peppery, ripe. Fresh acidity, ripe tannins, fruity, dark berries, some spices, ripe, blackberries, long finish.

Roger Voss The Wine Enthusiast 2017: 92 points 92-94.

Barrel Sample. This is a generous wine, rich in tannins and ripe fruit. It has power and concentration that are balanced by the dark berry fruits and acidity. It is a wine for the long term.

Kriss Kissack Wine doctor 2017: 15-16/20 • 90-92/100

This barrel sample has a dark, dusty and smoky nose, with dark cranberry and red cherry fruit, dusted with a little vanilla and some aromatic herbs. The palate is fresh, poised, with finely drawn red plum and tobacco-leaf fruit, dressed with a firm blanket of tannins, peppery and bright, and of course it has the fresh acidity of the vintage. A rather dry, savoury, fresh and gently sappy finish, with the tannins lingering a lot longer than the fruit. A decent effort.

Medium bodied, soft, red plum and cherry fruits with a forward approach

Decanter :21/04/2017 89/100

Big, bright, firm and heavily extracted, this is a St-Emilion that wants to announce its presence. You really wade through those tannins on the finish, but each time I start to get tired some red sappy fruits come up to meet me. It's good, ambitious and perky. From a blend of 81% Merlot, 13% Cabernet Franc and 6% Petit Verdot.
