Côtes de Provence
Grande Cuvée

ORIGIN	AOC Côtes de Provence
VARIETY	Grenache, Syrah, Cinsault, Rolle
REGION	Selection of the best terroirs of AOC Côtes de Provence. The ancient parcels benefit from shale and silty soils of the Massif des Maures, the clay-limestone vineyards near Thoronet and Lorgues and a great exposure to the sunshine of Provence in Le Cannet des Maures.
VINIFICATION	Grapes are harvested during the night. They are being directly pressed without any maceration to keep a fresh fruit, enhance a floral bouquet as show a bright pale color. The alcoholic fermentation takes place in thermo-regulated stainless steel tank. The malolactic fermentation are blocked to retain a crisp acidity.
TASTING	Floral nose with aromas of stone fruit. Smooth and delicate texture paired with red berries aromas on the palate with a fresh chalky minerality and a long finish.

About us

Maison-Gutowski's dream was to create products whose ambition lies simply in their quality: a delicate rosé wine inspired by the essence of pleasure for lovers of good taste.

It was through years of exploration and research through Provence to create the most delicate expression of the rosé, that M-G Rosé Grande Cuvée was born.

Thanks to the diversity of soils on the appellation Côtes de Provence, we are doing a rigorous selection among some of the most qualitative terroirs to create a blend using traditional grape varieties on the soils where they best express themselves.

Our composition: the desire to create and share a wine of excellence by bringing together specialists where each one has the freedom to bring their unique touch. A common passion and aspiration among vintners working everyday on their terroirs, and winemakers enhancing the juices, with respect to AOC Côtes de Provence know-how.

We are honored to work with the finest in the region who sustain and preserve the tradition of rosé wine renowned around the world.
