

COS D'ESTOURNEL

COS D'ESTOURNEL

2021

- A complex terroir in the northern Médoc, along the Gironde estuary and close to the Atlantic Ocean, that benefits from constant ventilation.
- Thanks to their deep roots and ability to adapt, the vines of Cos d'Estournel Blanc yielded a graceful wine.
- Sauvignon Blanc grapes were concentrated but lively, and Sémillon were highly mineral thanks to their limestone terroir.
- Remarkable energy accompanies a rich, precise palette of aromas, resulting in an accomplished, fascinating wine with great cellaring potential.

James Suckling

97-98/100

Long and driven with vivacity and energy. So mineral, in every sense. Grabs hold of you.

Antonio Galloni (Vinous)

93-95/100

Fabulous. In fact, the 2021 is one of the finest vintages I can remember tasting.*

Jane Anson (JaneAnson.com)

94/100

Fragrant and with grip. Impressively moreish.

Neal Martin (Vinous)

92-94/100

Well balanced with a fresh, vibrant entry. This has great potential.

William Kelley (RobertParker.com)

91-93+/100

A terrific effort. There's no question that it's one of the Médoc's most interesting white wines.
